Cyprus Talks In Athens Today

ATHENS, Sunday (Reuter).—Greek Government leaders today prepared for their talks on the future of Cyprus with the British Foreign Minister, Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, who arrives tomorrow from London.

A Greek Foreign Ministry official said yesterday officials here were "hoping for the best and preparing for the worst" in the discussions.

It is still not known whether Archbishop Makarios, self-styled head of the Cyprus Government, will take part in the talks. But if asked he would not refuse to meet Mr. Lloyd, he added.

A Cyprus Government House spokesman said Sir Hugh had still not received instructions to fly to Athens.

Mr. Lloyd, who is officially to have "an exchange of views" with the Greek Government, will meet Foreign Minister Averoff and probably the Prime Minister, Mr. Constantine Karamanlis.

Sergeant Wounded

In Nicosia, an official communiqué said that a British police sergeant was wounded slightly in the head by a gunman who fired at him in Paphos, west Cyprus, last night.

The sergeant, whose name was not given, fired a number of shots back at the gunman, who escaped in the dark.

Nine political prisoners in Nicosia's central prison who went on a six-day hunger strike on Friday were still on strike today. But an official said the situation in the prison was quiet.

The prisoners, all Cypriot Greeks, are striking in protest at punishments imposed on fellow prisoners earlier last week for "breaches of discipline."

Three soldiers were injured in a half-hour brawl among British troops in a Nicosia night club last night.

Two Cotton Mills
Planned for J'lem

LONDON, Sunday (INA).—An agreement has been made here between Mr. Abel Shaban, of South Africa, and Mr. Joseph Marshak, of Israel, both representing overseas interests, for the setting up of cotton spinning and sewing thread mills in Jerusalem.

The two mills will cover an area of 28 dunams which has already been chosen for the purpose. The cost of both plants is about $2m. The cotton mill will have a capacity of 20,000 spindles, and will be the largest of its kind in Israel.

The sewing thread mill will be the first such factory in Israel. Both mills will partly serve the needs of the home market while the major proportion of production will be exported.

The two enterprises will draw their raw materials from the newly developed cotton plantations in Israel.

French Amendments To Extradition Treaty

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Following the announcement in Jerusalem recently that both France and Israel had agreed on an extradition treaty, France has notified Israel that she wishes to recommend two changes. Details have not yet been forwarded to the Foreign Ministry here, but as soon as they are agreed upon it is expected that the treaty will be signed.

Sukarno Facing
'Gravest' Crisis

KYOTO, Japan, Sunday (Reuter).—President Sukarno of Indonesia faces the gravest crisis of his political career this week when he flies home after his visit to Japan, members of his suite said today.

Those closest to the President recognize that the "rebels" in Sumatra, the richest of the Indonesian islands, are in a powerful position economically and militarily.

A "mammoth rally" at Padang, Sumatra, today called on the Government, led by Dr. Djuanda, to resign. A broadcast report of the rally monitored in Singapore said it passed resolutions calling on President Sukarno to ask former Vice-President Mohammed Hatta and the Sultan of Jogjakarta to form a new Cabinet.

Ready to Talk

Dr. Sukarno would not comment immediately on the report but a senior military official said the local authorities in Sumatra had apparently decided to talk things over with the President instead of using threats. He said, "They have made no threats and presented no ultimatum. It appears they want to sit down with us and settle our outstanding differences in a democratic manner."

But members of the President's suite say that he may be unable to ignore demands from Sumatra that the islands should have a bigger share in Government financing. They say Sumatra normally supplies more than 50 per cent of the national revenue from its rubber, oil and other raw materials.

Dayan: Soviet Arms
Bigger Threat to M.E.

LONDON, Sunday (Reuter).—Abul Moshe Dayan, former Israeli Minister of Defense, said in an independent (commercial) television interview tonight that the supply of Russian weapons to Arab countries was a greater threat to Soviet influence in the area.

Aluf Dayan had been asked how serious he thought the Soviet military threat to be as opposed to the political threat in the Middle East.

"What we really mind is the tanks and the guns and the aircraft, and not so much the Communist ideology, if they take it all there," he said.

He thought the Israel forces could withstand an attack from the Arab states as long as the Arabs had only conventional weapons.

Asked where Israel was getting her arms, Aluf Dayan replied that they mainly came from Europe.

He added, "I think there is a realization now in Europe that it is better to have a strong Israel in order to avoid and prevent a war there. Countries in Europe were now ready to sell Israel arms which were not ready to do so before."

JORDANIAN GETS
DEATH AS SPY

A Jordanian military court has sentenced to death Youssef Musa Kuteina, of Dura village near Hebron, after finding him guilty of espionage for Israel. The Old City daily "Al-Difa" reported yesterday.

Tunis Seeks Cairo Aid
In Rift with France

CAIRO, Sunday (Reuter).—The Tunisian Ambassador here, Tayeb el Sabbani, said today that he had requested an urgent meeting with the Egyptian Foreign Minister, Mahmoud Fawzi, "to ask for Egypt's assistance" in Tunisia's crisis with France following yesterday's attack by French planes on a Tunisian border village.

The Ambassador added that he had been in touch with the envoys of some 20 "friendly countries" to seek their "moral assistance and diplomatic support."

El Sabbani did not elaborate on the statement that he would ask for Egyptian assistance.

In New York, Mongi Slim, Tunisian Ambassador to the U.S., arranged an extraordinary meeting for tonight with the U.N. Secretary-General, Dag Hammarskjöld. Mr. Slim called at the State Department to inform the U.S. of the seriousness with which his Government views the French action (President Bourguiba last night said an appeal might be made to the U.N. over the incident).

An official casualty list issued in Tunis late last night put the death toll as a result of the attack on the village, Sakiet Sidi Youssef, at 75, including nine women and 12 children. It said 70 others were wounded, while 24 shops and 24 dwellings were destroyed.

French official sources said in Paris that the French aircraft which took part in the operation directed their fire against an anti-aircraft battery which had earlier opened fire on French planes and against a concentration of Algerian insurgents in the village.

School Not Hit

The French statement said all efforts were made to avoid injury to the populace, and denied that a school was hit and children killed.

UK Sees Hussein's
Position Perilous

By GERDA L. COHEN
Jerusalem Post Correspondent

LONDON, Sunday. The partial unveiling of the United Arab Republic's constitution has provoked fiercer second thoughts from commentators here who generally agree that the union is Abdul Nasser's personal triumph, an adroit move to secure Egypt's lead in the Arab world.

The U.A.R.'s proposed constitution will give him a more extensive authority than was expected Syria would allow. Several Middle East correspondents note that the hour serious he thought the Soviet military threat to be as opposed to the political threat in the Middle East.

"What we really mind is the tanks and the guns and the aircraft, and not so much the Communist ideology, if they take it all there," he said.

He thought the Israel forces could withstand an attack from the Arab states as long as the Arabs had only conventional weapons.

JORDANIAN GETS
DEATH AS SPY

A Jordanian military court has sentenced to death Youssef Musa Kuteina, of Dura village near Hebron, after finding him guilty of espionage for Israel. The Old City daily "Al-Difa" reported yesterday.

Nevertheless, viewed from the military angle, Egyptian control of Yemeni foreign policy would afford Nasser a springboard to dominate Arabia. The possible line-up of the three Soviet-oriented countries is now considered evidence of skillful Soviet stringpulling.

Syrians Shoot At Ein Gev Settlers

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TIBERIAS, Sunday. — Several shots were fired yesterday afternoon from a Syrian village of Harab, south-east of Ein Gev, at a group of persons strolling in the kibbutz. There were no casualties.

A flock of sheep crossed into Ein Gev from the same Syrian village but they were driven back across the border.

The Israeli Army spokesman has denied the Syrian claim that an Israel unit penetrated the militarized zone from Ein Gev and fired on inhabitants of Kafr Harab.

The Syrian military spokesman on Saturday alleged that an Israel unit of nine soldiers crossed into the zone at midday and opened fire for 20 minutes on the Arabs. Syria was stated to have lodged a complaint with the Mixed Armistice Commission.

Communists In Syria Reported
In Underground

BEIRUT, Sunday (Reuter).—The Communist Party of Syria and the Lebanon has gone underground. The Damascus evening newspaper "Al Massar" reported today.

The newspaper also gave the first published explanation of the departure for Moscow last Wednesday of the Syrian Communist Party Secretary Khalid Bakdash.

"Al Massar" said Bakdash and his party colleagues met shortly before his departure with his family and decided to destroy all party documents, showing the state of the party and names of members.

The newspaper said Bakdash left Syria — for Moscow, it was reported — because he wanted to avoid dissolving the party. All other parties in Syria have disbanded pending the formation of a non-party National Union on Egyptian lines within the United Arab Republic.

Communist parties are illegal in all Arab countries, including Syria, but for some time Bakdash and other Syrian Communists have been tolerated.

Observers here believe that Bakdash's departure is a tactical victory for the Ba'athists with whom he was reported to have competed for leadership of the union movement. The Ba'athists urged a full merger and won the day.

Yemen Said Asking
Egypt for Troops

Reports from Cairo last night said the Yemeni Crown Prince, Mohammed el Badr, was scheduled to leave the Egyptian capital "within the next 24 hours" to report to his father, Imam Ahmed, on the results of his talks with Abdul Nasser on joining the United Arab Republic.

While there were no official reports on the results of the series of conferences held in Cairo, the New York Times reported from Cairo yesterday that the Yemen is understood to be asking, as the first condition of membership in the new republic, that he be taken under Egypt's wing militarily, and that Egyptian troops be sent to the Yemen.

Such a move might immediately involve Egypt in armed clashes with troops from Aden which, the Yemeni alleges, is still committing acts of aggression against her. Yemeni delegates in Cairo were said to have asked Egyptian technicians to help with economic plans as well as with Egyptian troops and arms, the report said.

Imam Ahmed was reported to be unenthusiastic over the prospect of having large groups of Communist technicians in his country, some of whom are there now making surveys for the implementation of the offer of a $10m. Soviet credit. It was reported that the Imam would like to see them go home.

Addressing a group of congratulating Lebanese leaders, including some ex-Premiers, in Damascus today, Kuwaiti invited Lebanon to join the U.A.R. "either on a unitary or on a federal basis."

Don't Want 'Hot' On Throne, Says Falanga

MADRID, Sunday (Reuter).—Hundreds of Falangist youths marched through the streets today, shouting, "Down with the King," "Down with Capitalism." "We don't want an idiot on the Throne."

The demonstration followed the annual ceremony marking "The Day of the Fallen Student" which commemorates a Falangist student named Matias Montero, shot dead by Communists in 1934. The youths who staged today's demonstrations belong to a Falangist faction opposed to General Franco's reported intention eventually to restore the monarchy in the person of Prince Juan Carlos, grandson of the last king, Alfonso.

Mapai Spurns G.Z.
Elections Plan

By ARYE RUBINSTEIN
Jerusalem Post Reporter

Mapai will not support the latest proposals of the General Zionist Party for a modified form of constituency elections. Dr. G. Josephthal, Mapai Secretary, told reporters in Jerusalem last night.

In a statement after a meeting of the Party Executive Committee, he said that the General Zionist plan was extremely vague, stipulating neither the number of constituencies nor the minimum percentage of votes a party must poll to qualify for Knesset representation.

It is learned on good authority that if the General Zionists should decide to return to the earlier Serin proposal, calling for 30 three-member constituencies, they would find a tendency in Mapai to support the plan. The party's Knesset faction was authorized to make a final decision in such an eventuality.

Mapai Surprised

Dr. Josephthal said that the new General Zionist plan had come as a surprise to Mapai and he would not have convened the Mapai Executive had he known of it earlier.

The Knesset today is scheduled to debate an amendment to the State Control Law, while the Basic Law is to be discussed tomorrow. The debate on the new budget will begin on Wednesday.

Uniform Procedure for Building
Tenders Adopted by Cabinet

Jerusalem Post Reporter

A uniform procedure for the issue of Government tenders for building contracts was adopted by the Cabinet yesterday.

The Cabinet approved the report on the new plan by an inter-ministerial committee appointed in 1951 and headed by Mr. S. Arzi, Technical Adviser to the Minister of Finance.

Under the new system a list of "recognized contractors" is to be prepared and classified according to geographical areas, financial capacity, and the type of work they do. Invitations for tenders will not be published in the future, but will be sent to either three, five, or seven contractors chosen from the approved list, in rotation.

Tenders involving more than $120,000 will be published in "Reshumot" while those for smaller sums will be posted on bulletin boards of the Department ordering the tender.

Standard Form

A standard tender form has been prepared for the use of all Ministries, and all Government agencies except for those engaged on security projects will be bound by the new procedures.

'Living in Space'

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Sunday (Reuter).—A 32-year-old airman today began a week-long experiment in living in space confined in a four-foot wide, hermetically sealed steel ball.

The airman, Donald Gerald Farrell, will not emerge from his experimental space chamber until next Saturday unless something goes wrong.

No other human beings so far as is known have ever attempted or succeeded in living in outer space conditions for as long as seven days.

Within his metal cell — like an oversized steel egg — the young airman will be completely cut off from the world, although his physical reactions will be noted and checked every minute.

Small Chamber

So small is Farrell's chamber that he will be able to move only his elbows a little and raise himself a few inches from his pilot's chair.

In case of accident or if Farrell's physical or mental processes suddenly collapse, the doctors and scientists watching him from the outside will be able to throw open a steel door to go to his aid.

House Report: USSR
Stole U.S. Secrets

WASHINGTON, Sunday (Reuter).—The House of Representatives Committee on Un-American Activities said yesterday that Soviet technological progress was made possible by a large degree of "Soviet conspirators" who had stolen "vital U.S. military and scientific secrets."

The report said the two Soviet Spies presented new evidence of this program, but it gave no details of the theft of American secrets.

The Committee said 1907 "has been one of the greatest years in the history of the Kremlin and its confederates through the free world."

Soviet Blast Leaves
40-Metre Crater

MOSCOW, Sunday (Reuter).—A 132-foot (about 40 metres) crater was ripped in the ground when 1,000 tons of explosives were set off as an experiment in Taganeri, near Tashkent, in Uzbekistan, Tass reported today.

The explosion was part of Soviet tests to use explosives in land development and is the biggest blast so far.

Tass quoted the newspaper "Stroitel'naya Gazeta" as saying it would soon be possible to blast whole mountains, leaving a flat surface, or blast out a reservoir capable of holding several million cubic metres of water.

Buber Acclaimed as Teacher And Thinker of Our Times

Jerusalem Post Reporter

The Hebrew University yesterday honoured Professor Martin Buber, world-renowned philosopher and "Teacher of this Generation" at a gathering held on the University campus on the occasion of his 80th birthday.

The prime audience in the Wise Auditorium, headed by Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, Cabinet Ministers, Knesset members and distinguished scholars, rose with sympathy as Dr. Buber entered.

Professor of Philosophy Nathan Rotenstreich praised Prof. Buber for visualizing the Hebrew University, be-reminiscing on his meetings with Herzl, said that Herzl would visit him almost daily in Vienna when he (Dr. Buber) was Editor-in-Chief of "Der Welt." During one visit, Herzl said: "We must find a new slogan."

Spirit, not Slogans

Prof. Buber dared to reply: "We don't need a slogan. We born as ork, not only as a Jew, but also as a learned driving force in the inspired redemption of the Jewish people," Dr. Buber, he said, "was both a great teacher and a teacher of their students."

Professors of Philosophy (Emertus) Hugo Shmuel Bergman recalled working together with Prof. Buber in his last years, and the loss felt by him and others when Prof. Buber retired from public life for five but a new spirit!"

Hersi drew himself up to his full, commanding height, looked at Buber and said: "Himn, Do you really think so?"

Unabashed, though shaken, Prof. Buber said, "Yes, doctor."

Some weeks later, Prof. Buber told the oppositionists to Herli.

In contradicting Kant's saying that man was not a means, but an end in himself, Prof.

Speaking for Mankind
Mr. Yoel Sprinzman, Known Speaker, said that he believed Dr. Huber spoke not only for his People, but also for all mankind.

Professor of Education
Ernst Simon and Mr. B. Uffenheimer, a former student of Dr. Huber, described his work and their impact on philosophical and religious thought.

In his reply, Prof. Huber, Huber said that the "spirit" (ruach) was not a mystical force, "spirit" was only authentic life. If it was fulfilled and realized. He continued that Jewish People had returned to the Land of Israel for the third time in order to fulfill the "spirit."

An exhibition of the works of Dr. Huber opened yesterday afternoon at the foyer of the Wise Auditorium by Prof. Gershon Schoenberger. The exhibition was open between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. until February 21.

Purchase Palakum

Jerusalem Post Staff

TEL AVIV, Sunday. — The secretariat of Mervat Ordvin, the Histadrut's secretary, is to discuss on Wednesday the intended purchase of the bankrupt Palakum Company by Solel Boneh, Mr. Aharon Ben-Zion, Managing Director of Koor Ltd., revealed today that Solel Boneh would not enter negotiations for the purchase of the company.

Kak's Quarter. (The kitchen was closed down 10 days ago after it served a meal which caused 700 children to fall ill.)

In a stormy session, the opposition attacked the coalition for its handling of the affair.

Just for that Purpose

Asked why the coalition believed responsible for the poisoning had been prepared in a bathtub Deputy Mayor Paul Jacoby, who is in charge of the city's health department, said:

"Mr. H. Hollander, a chance to purchase the firm."

Strong opposition has arisen since Mr. Levi Eschkol, who approved it received the approval of Hverat Ovdim.

The first person to be approved by the Minister of Finance Mr. Levi Eschkol has given his approval to the entry of Soviet bonds into negotiations, following the request of Mr. A. Shenkar, President of the Manufacturers' Association.

Mr. Eschkol had earlier opposed Soloi Boneh's bid, in order to give a group of private firms the right to buy Mr. H. Hollander, a chance to purchase the firm.

said that the bathtub had been put in the kitchen especially to make cocoa.

He said that he had persuaded the four men to leave the night of the poisoning outbreak and that the Municipal Administration had met the following morning to discuss the case.

Mayor Gershon Agron, who complained that the Government's Inquiry Committee had been set up without consulting the city council, announced that the city planned to build a modern Association to Mr. Sherkar's move, but it is understood that he claims that the men were not ready to be men willing to take the necessary action before the firm's case comes up before the bankruptcy court on February 17.

It is known that the General Zionist Party's leaders are the Hon. Dr. Yehoshua Yoffe, I. Rokach and Y. Sapir had brought pressure on many businessmen to provide the city with the money to set up the sum required by the Hollander group to acquire Kitchen. The committee investigating sanitation in school kitchens, will take at least another week before completing its work, it was understood last night. The committee has decided not to release an interim report, and the findings will be kept confidential until their official disclosure.

Palumbo. It would seem that Mr. Hollander's terms were too steep for the transaction to be completed in time.

INCREASE. — An arbitration tribunal has awarded a wages rise that will mean 13.5m. more a year for 79,000 post office engineering workers in Britain.
